FotoWare version 7.0 to be presented at IFRA Expo

At this year's IFRA Expo in Vienna (October 12-15) FotoWare presents version 7.0 of the FotoWare product suite containing new groundbreaking and high speed opportunities.

“By using web service communication users in a branch office can now easily browse and search the central archive using the powerful FotoStation Client connected either to the central server or to a FotoWeb archive at the headquarters”, says FotoWare founder and CEO Ole Christian Frenning. “Another interesting scenario is that online image agencies can implement FotoStation connectivity to their archive over the Internet. This way they can make their image archives available to any FotoStation 7.0 Client user with a username and password, and provide a convenient channel for selling their assets online”, Mr. Frenning concludes.

In the re-designed FotoWeb 7.0 the new image processing engine enables on-the-fly image processing and delivery. When a user requests to download a file or order it using the shopping cart, preset profiles control file format and color space conversion, resampling (useful if you don't want to download a 300-megabyte TIF file), custom watermarking and application of unsharp mask. The new FotoWeb Upload Tool allows you to select any number of files to upload using a standard system dialog box and send them all off in a single operation.

Connect 7.0 is the new file transfer automation server from FotoWare. It monitors multiple inputs and distributes files from local or network folders, FTP sites, FotoWeb servers, and email servers. It is the ideal tool for centralized archives with a need to distribute files to a number of branch offices. It can also act as a central hub where files can be transferred from one remote location to another, for instance by utilizing a FotoWeb archive search as input and a remote FTP location as the output.

Further news on all FotoWare products will be presented at the FotoWare stand no. A555, and at www.fotoware.com.
